VENT AXIA

exhaust & intake fans

solve ventilation problems

In Factories, Offices, Restaurants, and at home—everywhere, bad ventilation is the enemy of Health and Efficiency.

Good ventilation has not always been easy to obtain under modern conditions of life, but progress in Aero-Dynamics and Plastic Moulding led directly to Vent-Axia. Moulded in Plastic material and provided with the most efficient air-screw and electric motor, Vent-Axia is light, attractive, non-corrodible and designed to fit to the glass of windows.

The result is good ventilation in its simplest form, either for Stale Air Extraction or Fresh Air Intake.

Proof is shown by the extensive use of Vent-Axia in Government Departments and Industrial concerns throughout the World.

As far back as 1896 the late Messrs Dady & Framrose C Golwalla first conceived of a scheme for a Swimming Bath and opened in the fresh water tank in the compound of Chanda Ramji Press at Colaba

Appreciating the vital need of a cosmopolitan institution on the same lines, however, the late Golwalla Bros acquired a site on Back Bay Shore and on March 21st, 1900, Sir Lawrence Jenkins, the then Chief Justice, laid the foundation stone of what is known, as the Golwalla Bros Victoria Swimming Bath, where more than 70,000 people, of all castes and creeds have benefited from the tuition of Golwalla

In addition to other aquatic activities Messrs Golwalla Bros introduced Water Polo in Bombay in 1903, the first seen in India and the Parsis established a supremacy which has remained unshaken apart from visits of Calcutta Teams and a very narrow defeat by a European side in 1926.

Bombay had the honour of staging the first Quadrangular Water Polo Tournament in India and as a result of the consistently fine record of the Parsi Team of Messrs Golwalla Bros, have won the championship for six years in succession

Furthermore, in 1926, Golwalla Bros introduced the Central Heating System, the first of its kind in India in their Swimming Bath The public of Bombay felt it a great boon to swim in the cold season

The Bath has also a most up to-date Rowing and Boating Club for the benefit of all its members and a modern Restaurant

The Bath is open to all communities of both sexes and special personal instruction in Swimming, Diving, Life Saving, Water Polo, Rowing, etc., is given by a Staff of well qualified teachers.

The Bath can be reserved by individual parties and suitable convenient hours are arranged by the Proprietors

UNIVERSITY OF BOMBAY.

Incorporated under Act XXV of 1857 (subsequently amended by Act VIII of 1904 and by Act IV of 1905 with all its subsequent amendments)

The Senate meets ordinarily once a year, between the 20th January and 15th February on a date fixed by, and at other times convened by the Vice-Chancellor. A meeting of the Senate can be convened on the requisition of any twenty of the Fellows to the Senate or on the requisition of any twenty of the Fellows to the Senate or on the requisition of any twenty of the Fellows to the Senate. The members of the Senate form a quorum. All questions are decided by a majority of the votes of the members present, the Chairman, when the numbers are equal, having a second or casting vote. There are five Faculties, viz., Arts, Science, Technology, Law and Medicine. A member of the Senate may be assigned, on the recommendation of the Syndicate, to one or more Faculties. Each Faculty elects on its own Dean. The Annual Convocation for conferring degrees is held on the third Tuesday in August.

The Executive Government of the University is vested in a Syndicate consisting of the Vice-Chancellor as Chairman, the Director of Public Instruction and sixteen Fellows, who are elected for three years by the Academic Council and the Senate in the proportion of 7:9.

Panehgani.

The School was founded in 1902 by the Colonial and Continental Church Society, partly through the munificence of Miss Ashika of Poona. It is situated in its own delightful grounds of over 25 acres overlooking the Kurnal Valley. There is accommodation for about 150 boarders as well as the Principal, staff and masters. The buildings include Assembly and Dining halls, Library, Laboratory, ample class and reading rooms. Both school house and residences have lofty and spacious rooms, while special efforts have been made to secure bright and airy dormitories. There is a large School Gymnasium adjoining the main building and a swimming bath supplied with pure well water.

The aim of the Principal is to provide a sound education on modern lines for the sons of Europeans. As far as conditions will allow the education is the same as that of the English Secondary School. The religious teaching is supervised by the Church of England Chaplain.

All boys are expected to take part in games and also to attend the physical instruction classes. There is a trained physical instructor on the staff, and classes are taken by him during school hours. Hockey, Association Football and Cricket are played daily by senior boys on the extensive level ground known as Tableland (a short distance from the school) and by junior boys on the school grounds. Instruction is also given in swimming and life-saving. The school is divided into four houses for games, and inter-house competitions are held in all sports. The Annual Athletic Sports are held in May. Tennis and Badminton are also available on the school grounds.

BYRAMJEE JEEJEEBHAY MEDICAL SCHOOL.

Poona.

The School in Poona opened with 22 pupils on the 1st November 1878. The formal opening ceremony was performed by Sir Richard Temple, Governor of Bombay, on 7th December 1878. On that occasion, Sir Richard Temple announced that Mr. Byramjee Jeejeebhoy had generously promised a gift of a bungalow in Civil Lines to serve as a residential quarters for the students and a sum of Rs. 10,000 for the formation of an Endowment Fund for the School.

Since its opening, the School has continued to expand and the curriculum, which originally was of three years, has, since 1908, been extended to four years. As the school steadily progressed, the necessity for new buildings began to be felt, and in the year 1906 two new blocks of buildings, consisting of two lecture rooms, an examination hall, and a new dissecting room with other subsidiary rooms, were erected by Government. A large residential building to accommodate 80 pupils was also built by Government. This is situated in the compound of the bungalow originally presented by Mr. Byramjee Jeejeebhoy. In 1915, a house for the Medical Officer, who supervises the students' quarters, was erected.

The standard of admission to the L.C.S. Course was raised to the Inter-Science Examination of "B" Group of the Bombay University with effect from June 15th, 1927.

On 1st November 1925, the occasion of the Golden Jubilee of the School, the New Laboratory building and the Out-Patient Department were opened by the Minister of Education. An independent Anatomy Department is being set up.

The proposal to convert the School into a College is under consideration of Government.

This College owes its origin to a dual movement for higher education in India—the affiliated or the University type and the "National" or independent one. Early in 1917 the Theosophical Educational Trust started The Sind National College. The College is affiliated upto the M.A. Examination in the Faculty of Arts, and upto the B.Sc. Examination in the Faculty of Science. In 1932 the College was renamed 'Dayaram Gidumal National College' in memory of the late Devan Dayaram Gidumal, C.S., a great and unostentatious philanthropist and a brilliant scholar.

The College is situated amidst beautiful surroundings by the Indus Canal. The Staff consists of Professors and Lecturers of high qualifications.

ELPHINSTONE COLLEGE

Mahatma Gandhi Road, Bombay

The Elphinstone College arose by a separation in the year 1856 of the professional element from the "Elphinstone Institution," which became a high school. The Elphinstone Institution had its origin in an English School established by the Bombay Native Education Society in 1824. This sum afterwards amounted to Rs. 4,41,001, and the interest of it is augmented by an annual subscription from Government. Mr. Coward Jeabangh Baidyanath presented Government with Rs. 1,00,000 towards erecting suitable college buildings at Fort for Elphinstone College. GUJARAT COLLEGE

Ahmedabad

In 1856 the Honourable Mr. T. O. Hope (afterwards Sir Theodore Hope), then Educational Inspector for the Northern Division, convened a public meeting of the leading citizens of Ahmedabad, for the purpose of establishing an Arts College, and invited them to raise a sum for it in order to induce Government to supplement it. In response to this call a sum of Rs 42,000 was raised. By the end of 1860, with the accumulation of interest and further donations, the sum rose to more than Rs 72,500 and Government in that year opened a class in the Government High School for teaching Law, Logic, Applied Mathematics and Drawing. This class was called "The Gujarat Provincial College." The cost of the College was Rs 480 per mensem only, half of which was defrayed by Government. There were only three or four professors including the Head-Master of the High School, who acted as Principal of the new College. The College was not affiliated to the University of Bombay which came into being in 1857. Undergraduates, therefore, had to go to Bombay to read for their degree examinations. This was the main cause of paucity of numbers in the new College. At the end of the first decade (1861-1871) Government and the Gujarat College Fund Committee, finding that the small class which had existed for this period did not answer the purpose for which the fund was raised, closed the institution from 1872. The funds were allowed to accumulate until a favourable opportunity presented itself to carry out the original object of establishing an Arts College. Government discontinued their share of contributions during the time the fund remained unspent.

In 1878 when Sir Richard Temple was Governor, Government announced that a College on a moderate scale could be started at an annual cost of Rs 16,000 provided the citizens of Ahmedabad could contribute half this sum annually. The Municipality of Ahmedabad promised to contribute Rs 2,000 per annum to make up the deficiency until the endowment fund was raised to Rs 2,00,000. The College was re-opened in March 1879, and was affiliated to the University of Bombay up to the first Arts Examination which corresponded to the present Intermediate Arts Standard. The number of students which had risen to 89 in March 1880, dwindled to 7 only in November 1882, because the College did not teach the full University Course, and students found it more profitable to go to Bombay for their full undergraduate course. Leading citizens of Ahmedabad submitted a Memorial to the Educational Commission appointed by the Government of India which visited the city in November 1882. In the meanwhile the funds of the College were through the energy of the citizens of Ahmedabad, raised to Rs 2,00,000. Government accordingly undertook the management of the College from 1884, appointed a Staff for that purpose and held the College classes in a separate building. In that year the University of Bombay recognised the College up to the B.A. Examination. In 1887 Government handed over the institution to the Society for the Promotion of Higher Education in Gujarat. The administration of the College was assigned to a Board composed of Government Officials and representatives of the Society and the Municipality.

In 1898 the College was given 30 acres of land on its present site on the Ellis Bridge area. The cost of the new buildings was Rs 1,92,327 of which Rs 85,007 was contributed by Government. On the 16th of July 1912, the Society for the Promotion of Higher Education in Gujarat having dissolved itself the College was finally handed back to Government.

To assist Government to assume full and effective control of the College Sir Chinnubhai Madhavai, Baronet, C.I.E., gave the munificent donation of two lakhs of Rupees for the Arts College, and six lakhs for the Science Institute at the College. The Madhavai Ranchhodol Science Institute was inaugurated in 1912 by H. E. Lord Sydenham (then Sir George Clarke). Sir Chinnubhai also donated Rs 1,50,000 for the provision of a Library, which was named after Lord Sydenham as "The Sydenham Library" and a college hall designated "King George V Hall" to commemorate the visit of Their Majesties to India in 1911.

S. N. D. THACKERSEY INDIAN WOMEN'S UNIVERSITY

1, Carnegie Road, Queen's Road, Bombay No. 1

The idea of this University was first conceived by Dr. D. K. Karve, who had two ideals: (1) to give to the Indian woman an education which would enable her to take an active part in the instruction and (2) differentiation in the courses of study at a certain stage to suit the different roles played by men and women in the social and economic life of the country. It is a teaching University and was inaugurated in 1916. Dr. Karve was the first Registrar and Dr. Ramkrishna Bhandarkar the first Chancellor. A High School and a College (at Poona) were later affiliated to it. Thanks to public support and a magnificent donation of Rs. 15,00,000 from Sir Vithaldas Thackersey, Dr. Karve's ambition was soon realised.

The University conducts two Arts colleges and two High schools (in Poona and Bombay). Two colleges, one at Ahmedabad and one at Baroda, and about 17 high schools are now affiliated to it, and its degrees are recognised by the Government of Bombay. The Government of India and the Government of Bombay have recognised its work by an initial grant of Rs. 1,00,000 each for the purposes of erecting a building and an annual recurring grant of Rs. 5,000 each. Its premises were declared open by the late Lord Brabourne, the then Governor of Bombay.

The Senate is the Supreme Governing Body. It meets ordinarily once a year and consists of 55 elected members representing different electorates and 10 ex-officio members. The Annual Convocation for conferring the Degrees is generally held in the last week of June.

The executive government of the University is vested in a Syndicate consisting of the Chancellor, Vice-Chancellor, Lady Thackersey, Dr. D. K. Karve, Principals of colleges and 5 Fellows elected by the Senate for the year.

The first few meetings of the Society were held in the Victoria and Albert Museum, at Byculla, but in 1884, Mr H. M. Phipson, who had then joined the Society, offered the use of a room in his Office in the Fort, which resulted in a greatly increased membership and better attendance at the Meetings. To this rooms, which was situated in 18, Forbes Street, Mr. Phipson added the use of others, which continued to serve as the headquarters of the Society until December 1886, when the present more suitable premises at 114, Apollo Street, were obtained. In January 1886, the Society issued the first number of its now well-known Journal.

These Exhibits are under the management of a Sub-Committee of three Trustees, two are appointed by the Society and the third by the Board of Trustees of the Prince of Wales Museum.

The Annual subscription is Rs. 25, which includes the Society's Journal. The Society numbers 1,200 members but many more are desired.

BIBLE SOCIETY OF INDIA AND CEYLON

(Bombay Auxiliary)

Amar Building, Sir Pheroshaheb Mehta Road, Fort

This Auxiliary was originally the Auxiliary of the British and Foreign Bible Society, and was founded in 1818 under the auspices of the then Governor of Bombay, Sir Evan Nepean, who was a Vice President of the Society in London. Its first Honorary Secretary was the Rev. Thomas Carr, D.D., who became the first Bishop of Bombay. The stocks of Scriptures in English, French, Dutch, Portuguese, etc., were stored in the Vestry of St. Thomas' Cathedral for many years and the monthly meetings of the Committee were held there regularly.

The one aim and object of the Auxiliary has been and is the translation, publication and circulation of the Holy Bible without note or comment, throughout the Western India. The translation of the Bible into Marathi and Gujarati, the two major languages of Western India, was begun soon after its foundation. The translation of the Gujarati Bible was completed in 1828, while the first Marathi Bible was published in 1847. During more than 180 years of work in Bombay Presidency more than 8 million copies of Holy Scriptures have been circulated, chiefly by sale, at rates very much lower than cost price. Besides the translation, revision, publication and ordinary means of dissemination of the Bible, large grants of money are made to Missionary Societies in order to assist Scripture distribution throughout Western India. Missionary Societies and Churches of all Protestant denominations depend solely on the Bible Society for Scriptures in various languages, which are essential to them in their various departments of service.

On November 1st, 1944 the Bible Society of India and Ceylon came into being as a result of long negotiations between the British and Foreign Bible Society in London and its Committee in India. The British and Foreign Bible Society transferred the administrative control over its work in India and Ceylon to the new Society, and under the Constitution of the latter as approved by the British and Foreign Bible Society the existing Auxiliaries in this country and Ceylon have become component parts of the Bible Society of India and Ceylon. The new Society is assured of continued support from London and of increasingly intimate association with the American Bible Society and the National Bible Society of Scotland.

Since the greater proportion of the Society's expenses must be borne by voluntary contributions, it is dependent upon the support of all Christian people for help to carry on its beneficent work.

THEOSOPHICAL SOCIETY.

Blavatsky Lodge, Bombay.

The Theosophical Society was formed in New York by Mme. H. P. Blavatsky and Col. H. S. Olcott on 17th November 1875 and incorporated in Madras on 3rd April 1905 (having its Headquarters at Adyar, Madras). Col. H. S. Olcott was the first President, and on his death in 1907, Dr Annie Besant was elected President by four septennial elections. She held the office till her death in September 1933, and was succeeded by Dr George S. Arundale, M.A. LL.B., F.R.Hist.S., D.Litt., who was, in 1942, re-elected President for a second term of 7 years. During its 70 years existence the Society has spread its branches all over the world. It has 47 National Sections containing 1,345 Lodges. Its membership is about 83,300 of which over 8,000 belong to the Indian Section (having its Headquarters at Benares).

The Theosophical Society is a non-sectarian body of seekers after Truth, striving to serve humanity on spiritual lines, and therefore endeavouring to check materialism and revive religious tendencies. Its three declared objects are—(1) To form a nucleus of the Universal Brotherhood of Humanity, without distinction of race, creed, sex, caste or colour. (2) To encourage the study of comparative religion, philosophy and science. (3) To investigate the unexplained laws of nature and the powers latent in man.

The Society is composed of students, belonging to any religion in the world or to none, who are united by their approval of the above objects, by their wish to remove religious antagonisms and to draw together men of goodwill, irrespective of their religious opinions, and by their desire to study religious truths and share the results of their studies with others. Their bond of union is not the profession of a common belief, but a common search and aspiration for Truth. They hold that Truth should be sought by study, by reflection, by purity of life, by devotion to high ideals, and regard Truth as a prize to be striven for, not as a dogma to be imposed by authority. They consider that belief should be the result of individual study, or of intuition and not its antecedent, and should rest on knowledge, not on assertion. They extend tolerance to all, even to the intolerant, not as a privilege but as a duty, and they seek to remove ignorance, not to punish it. They see every religion as an expression of the Divine wisdom and prefer its study to its condemnation, and its practice to proselytism. Peace is their watchword, as Truth is their aim.

The Blavatsky Lodge French Bridge, Chowpatty, Bombay, which was founded on 22nd April 1876, and obtained its charter on 20th February 1880, was registered on 6th July 1906. It is the first branch of the Society to be established in India and has its own spacious building, a good library and a book depot. The Lodge has 177 members. There are six other branches of the Society in Bombay and suburbs and four special branches for young people.

CHURCHES OF ENGLAND. ST. THOMAS' CATHEDRAL

Bombay

The first scheme for building a Church on the Island of Bombay originated in 1678, the English Services then being conducted in a Hall in the Castle. Money was collected, but though the Church was commenced, it never got higher than fifteen feet. In 1718 Richard Cobbe appealed to have this stigma removed, and on Christmas Day, 1718, the church was opened with great rejoicing. In 1814 Bombay had been made an Archdiocese of Calcutta and on 7th June 1816 the church was consecrated with all due solemnity by the Right Rev Thomas Fanshawe Middleton, D.D. In 1837 Bombay was created a Bishopric, and in 1838, on the arrival of Dr Carr, the first Bishop, it was notified to be the Cathedral Church of the See, under the dedication of St Thomas the Apostle. The present pinnacled tower was erected consisting of a lantern standing upon a square tower at its base, the whole rising 146 feet from ground level and containing a clock with three small quarter bells each suitably inscribed. There are two Silver Chalice of particular interest, one being the gift of Governor Gerald Aungler whilst the other's history is bound up in mystery and is inscribed "The gift of the Greenland merchants of the Cities of York, 1632." In 1867-68 the present beautiful chancel and organ chamber were constructed, the first-stone being laid by Sir Bartle Frere.

The Lady Chapel has a splendid reredos given as a thank offering, and the screen surrounding the Chapel is in memory of Captain Mathias who gave his life for his country during the great war.

CITY FEVER (INFECTIOUS DISEASES) HOSPITALS

Arthur Road, Jacob Circle, Bombay.

These Hospitals, which are equipped and maintained by the Bombay Municipal Corporation, were opened at Arthur Road on the outbreak of an epidemic of small-pox in 1892. Previous to this, in the year 1888, the Bombay Municipality started a hospital at Grant Road called, the Grant Road Infectious Diseases Hospital. This hospital was generally opened during the epidemics of small-pox and cholera and was closed during the rest of the year. The hospital worked for four, six, one and seven months during the years 1888, 1889, 1890 and 1891 respectively. It was permanently closed on the 26th July, 1892, and the patients, furniture, etc., were transferred to Arthur Road. This hospital was made ready for the admission of patients on 12th March, 1892, and had been called "The Arthur Road Hospital for Infectious Diseases." But when the small-pox section was entirely separated from the general section, the name was given as "City Fever Hospitals." In the beginning, patients suffering from cholera and small-pox were chiefly admitted and treated, but now patients suffering from all infectious diseases are treated here. During the first outbreak of plague, patients suffering from that disease were also treated at this Hospital, and, from 1890 to 1901, 6,322 plague patients were treated. Since 1901 the admission of plague patients into this Hospital was discontinued, and a separate hospital known as Martha's Hospital was started for such cases in 1902. But from 1930, the Martha's Hospital is exclusively maintained for advanced tuberculosis and road side cases, and the admission of plague cases in the City Fever Hospitals has been resumed.

At present the hospitals are divided into two units, one for small-pox and the other for all other infectious diseases except tuberculosis. The accommodation in the former unit is for 244 patients and in the other unit is for 136 patients. The average number of patients treated has been consistently on the increase and the maximum number of patients treated on one day has reached over 700.

CHILDREN'S AID SOCIETY.

Children's Home, Umarhadi, Bombay and Chembur (Post Trombay).

The Children's Aid Society was established in 1927 to help forward the operation of Bombay Children Act by taking over responsibility for the maintenance of the Umarhadi Children's Remand Home, for the organisation of inquiry work regarding the cases of boys and girls dealt with by the Juvenile Court and for the co-ordination of work done by voluntary supervision workers appointed by the Court. The Children's Aid Society is a private charitable organisation registered under the Societies' Registration Act No. XXI of 1890 with a very substantial grant-in-aid from Government. Its work lies amongst destitute children hailing from all parts of India, juvenile offenders less than 16 years of age and children offended against by adult persons. The extent of its activities can be estimated from the fact that in the first ten years of its existence over 8,000 remand cases had passed through the Umarhadi Home, and that in 1930 a Junior Reformatory School for boys less than 15 years of age was opened in the Umarhadi compound.

Children under 16 years of age, who are arrested in Bombay City or Suburban District under the Children Act, are kept on remand in the Umarhadi Children's Home pending disposal through the Children's Court.

The Children's Aid Society's Umarhadi Home now employs a Chief Probation Officer, 6 Subsidiary Probation Officers, and three Voluntary Probation Officers to inquire into the children's cases and supervise them on probation for the Juvenile Court in Bombay City and Suburbs. The work of supervision is also assisted by Voluntary Supervisors.

The Society opened in September last, 1930, the Children's Cottage Homes at Chembur (near Mankhurd, post Trombay) to accommodate over 300 children. The Chembur Children's Home is intended to provide advanced training in farming and related occupations for a period of years under rural conditions, and will encourage the opening of "Farm Colonies" in sparsely populated and virgin lands in the Presidency.

The Society has opened since November 1940 a Home for mentally deficient children. It is accommodated in a spacious building at Chembur specially constructed for the purpose. There is provision in the Home for the maintenance and treatment of 80 children of all grades of mental deficiency.

The Society has also taken over the management of the David Sassoon Industrial School, Matunga, since November 1939.

The total number of children in all the four institutions is about 1,230.

DADAR SCHOOL FOR THE BLIND.

(Formerly known as American Mission School for the Blind)

Dadar, Bombay.

The School for the Blind was established in 1900 by the late Miss Anna Millard. The School was opened during famine times, when both the young and adult blind were admitted. It has gradually developed into a strictly educational institution. It is now under the management of a Committee, composed of Social workers, Philanthropists and Educationists of the City of Bombay. At present, only girls and boys up to the age of 14, irrespective of any caste, creed, colour or religion are admitted. The aim of the School is to make the blind children self-supporting, self respecting and contributive members of society and to help them to take their rightful position along with their seeing compere. The ordinary school subjects are taught in English and Marathi from Kindergarten through High School. School-life activities, such as Scouting, Cubbing, Girl-guiding, Literary, Music, Excursion and other sports are an essential part of the education of the children. Great importance is given to physical education.

It is primarily a residential school but day-scholars are also admitted.

A special department, probably the only one of its kind in India, namely a Department for the Deaf-Blind-Mute, was started in January 1938. The triply-handicapped child is taught to speak through tactile and oral methods to hear through bone-conduction and to read and write with Braille.

The Music Department is affiliated to the Indian School of Music.

Cane-work is the principal industry and the product is on sale for the benefit of the department. Other industries taught are sisal-fibre work and bead-chain making.

Apart from the Municipal and Government Educational and Technical grants-in-aid the School is dependent upon the public for support. The building, for which the land and a generous building grant were given by the Government, is located on a healthy and spacious plot on Dadar Road, a few minutes walk from Parel Tiam Terminus. Visitors are very welcome to see the children at work from 11 A.M. to 4.30 P.M. on weekdays and from 8 to 11 A.M. on Saturdays. But the pupils are always busy, and even out of school hours visitors will find interesting activities going on.

THE DAVID SASSOON INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL

Mahim—Bombay 16

The nucleus of a Juvenile Reformatory was first formed in Bombay in 1843 through the exertions of Dr. Buist and in that year a Ragged School was established at Sewri as an asylum for orphan and vagrant. The objects of the School were (1) the reformation of juvenile offenders arrested by the Police and (2) the encouragement of apprenticeship amongst the working classes.

For several years the maintenance of the School was provided for by public subscription and its management was in the hands of private individuals. In 1857 when the institution stood in urgent need of funds to meet its immediate wants and to ensure its stability for the future, the sons of the late Mr. David Sassoon made an offer of Rs. 30,000 on certain conditions, and conveyed to Government a house and the premises at Chunam Khan Road (now known as Lamington Road), which were vacated in October, 1911, for the premises now occupied at Matunga. The Government of Bombay, with the sanction of the Government of India, accepted the offer and the School of Industry was organised under the name of "The David Sassoon Industrial and Reformatory Institution", and its management from then was vested in a Committee.

Control of the Institution—In 1900 the control of the David Sassoon Industrial and Reformatory was transferred from the Judicial Department to the Educational Department in accordance with the decision of the Government of India. The Control of the Institution was transferred to the Home Department in 1926.

In 1927 the Institution was certified under Section 34(2) of the Bombay Children Act 1924, as fit for the reception of children and youthful offenders dealt with under the Act.

In April, 1924, the administrative control of the Institution, as of other Reformatory Schools in the Presidency, was transferred from the Director of Public Instruction to the Backward Class Officer. In the following year the name was changed to "The David Sassoon Industrial School". The children admitted to the School are committed by the Juvenile Court under the Bombay Children's Act of 1924 and they are trained and reformed during the period of their stay at the School.

Its management was taken over in 1939 by the Children's Aid Society, Bombay, which includes the representatives of the Sassoon Family and Government nominees, and which is controlled by the Backward Class Officer since 1934. They are taught the three "R's" and are trained to habits of useful industry. Blacksmithy, fitting and turning, carpentry and furniture-making, cane-work, polishing and painting, sign-board painting, tailoring, spinning and weaving and gardening are the trades taught. Drawing, co-related to these different arts and crafts, is a special feature. As apprentices under training, boys are sent to neighbouring mills, workshops and factories and are given employment in the Army and the Navy. The School is also receiving War work orders.

There are three primary schools attached, teaching Gujarati, Marathi and Urdu, upto standard IV. English, Art, Drawing, Religious and Moral Instruction, Music and First Aid to the Injured, form the region part of curricula of school-studies.

Scouting, boxing, swimming, cricket, football, physical drill and gymnastics are the chief activities indulged in by boys. Sports, boxing-tournaments, cricket and football matches with other schools and clubs, and scout camps provide ample scope to boys for developing a healthy sporting spirit. Magic lantern lectures, evening walks, educational visits, and excursions, scout camps, bathing parties, morning discourses and dramatic performances held inside the compound are extra curricular activities of the Institution. The institution has an extensive playground, vegetable gardens, the "Sir Leslie Wilson Swimming Bath", Boy Scout "Bunbury Troop Third Bombay" and "Mumukshu-Troop" and a boxing club affiliated to the Boxing Federation of Western India. A School Band with pipes and drums and bagles and drums, was started in 1937 at the instance of Mr. B. L. Ferard with the object of recreation in the School and training to the boys.

In many cases the boys discharged from the Institution are procured employment by the authorities, and are sent to the Sheppard After-Care Auxiliary Home and other similar institutions.

HINDU WIDOWS' HOME ASSOCIATION

Hingne Budruk, Poona 4

Professor Dhondo Keshav Karve started the Anath Balkrishnam in Poona in 1896, in order to educate young, poor and deserving Hindu widows, so as to make them self-reliant and useful to society. In the year 1900, during the plague epidemic, the late Rao Bahadur Ganesh Govind Gokhale offered to place some of his land in the village of Hingne Budruk situated at a distance of about four miles from Poona, at the disposal of the institution. A mud hut, which is now reconstructed and preserved as a monument, was built on this site and the Home was established there. Number of unmarried girls were attracted to the Widows' Home, and a new school named Mahila Vidyalaya had to be started for them in 1907 in the city. Great efforts were made in order to induce parents not to marry their daughters till the age of 20 and to educate them. This school flourished in Poona till 1915 when it was also removed to Hingne. In 1915 both the schools were amalgamated and the Hindu Widows' Home Association became a general institution for the education of girls, married and unmarried women, and widows.

At present there are at Hingne the following departments, all expanded around the nucleus of the hut of 1900 in the course of the last 45 years.

1. Mahilashram High School, preparing students for the Entrance examination of the Women's University and the Matriculation examination of the University of Bombay. 2. Adhyapakshala—Training College for Primary teachers, preparing students for the examinations of the Women's University for the Primary School Teachers' Diplomas, which are recognised by Government as equivalent to their own certificates. 3. Primary School with separate special classes for adults, little girls and rural children. All these are recognised by Government. In these there are altogether about 420 pupils. 512 students (42 widows, 80 married and 201 unmarried girls, and 80 boys), of all castes from the age of 5 up to the age of about 25 years, stay in the hostels conducted at Hingne. 84 students are maintained free or half free by the Association.

Since 1940 a special hostel is being conducted for better type of children committed by the Juvenile Courts and there are about 60 children in this hostel. A few destitute children from outside have also been admitted.

The Kanyashala (high school for girls) at Satara, where about 300 girls are being educated, is conducted by the Association entirely on its own responsibility.

The institution has so far sent out more than 250 trained teachers, while many nurses, midwives and doctors have received their preliminary education there and it has thus helped hundreds of women to secure a means of independent livelihood. More than 1,500 widows and an equal number of virgins and married women of all castes have received good general education in the institution. The Association was chiefly instrumental in developing the idea of the Indian Women's University and making it successful till about 1935. The Association also lent the services of its life-workers to conduct High Schools in Belgaum, Sholapur, Bombay, and Dhulia, where the benefit of High School education is received by a large number of girls.

There are 7 life-workers (out of whom 3 are women) who have promised to serve for life and carry on the activities of the Institution. The men are all well qualified and 10 life-workers are graduates of the Indian Women's University, 2 of whom have origin qualifications. All work in a spirit of self-sacrifice.

The Association has depended all along on public support, although it has received some annual grant from the Indian Women's University as well as from the Government of Bombay. It now owns about 18 acres of land together with buildings worth about Rs 73,000. The annual recurring expenditure comes to about Rs 80,000, while the assured income is only about Rs 73,000. The rest has to be secured from public subscriptions.

TATA MEMORIAL HOSPITAL.

Hospital Avenue, Parel, Bombay

This Hospital, founded by the Trustees of the Sir Dorabji Tata Trust for the purpose of investigation and treatment of cancer and allied conditions, was opened by His Excellency the Governor of Bombay, on 28th February, 1943. It is devoted to the treatment of one type of disease and almost all the medical and scientific members of its staff are full time workers. The building has been planned on lines similar to the New Memorial Hospital at New York and its specialised function has been responsible for its unique design and conception in this country.

The Institute is equipped with the most modern scientific appliances for diagnosis and treatment.

X-ray and Radium Department—Besides very efficient diagnostic units for specialised work, the X-ray Department is fitted with high and low voltage apparatus for superficial and deep radiation therapy. Two grammes of radium (valuing nearly 2 lakhs of rupees) are put into solution and the emanated gas—radon—is extracted, purified and collected in gold and glass tubing. The quantity of gas is accurately measured and the tubes after calibration and sealing are supplied in specially designed applicators for the treatment of patients in different regions of the body.

Surgeal Department—There are three up-to-date operating theatres built with walls of glass bricks on one side to exclude dust and other extraneous material and to let in sufficient light during day time. The theatres are all air conditioned and the incoming air is filtered, sterilised, cooled and dehumidified before being distributed by means of ducts. The supply of oxygen, nitrous oxide and compressed air is ensured through pipes from a central supply room.

Laboratories—There are well-equipped pathological, chemical and physics laboratories, where routine work and investigations are carried out on material sent from the clinics. The Hospital has facilities for storing and preserving blood or plasma and blood transfusions are undertaken in serious cases at very short notice.

The Hospital has a maximum capacity of 100 beds. It is essentially a charitable institution but private patients are expected to pay a fee in proportion to their earning capacity.

The Out-Patient Department is open from 8 a.m. to 10 a.m. on all days except Sundays.

TILSIDAS GOPALJI CHARITABLE AND DHAKLESHWAR TEMPLE TRUST

204, National Insurance Bldg., Hornby Road, Bombay

The Trust was constituted under a scheme sanctioned by the High Court of Bombay. The late Sheth Tilsidas Gopalji, who belonged to the Sorli Bhanushali community of Furhunder, left by his will of 1824 certain landed properties in Bombay, the rental proceeds of which were to be utilised for religious and charitable purposes. The charming Temples of Shri Hanchothji, Shri Mahadeo and Shri Vitthoba situated on Warden Road at its junction with Peddar Road, and the beautiful tank, a sanitarium and a dharmashala adjacent to them, are maintained from the proceeds of these properties, a part of which is also regularly spent on repairs to temples at Muttra and Vrindavan. The balance of the proceeds is utilised towards the grant of scholarships and for gifts to medical, educational and scientific institutions. In December 1937, the Trust properties belonging to the old Dhakleshwar Temple Trust at Mahalaxmi were amalgamated, by an order of the High Court of Bombay, with the properties of the Tilsidas Gopalji Charities. The Annual fair held on Dhakleshwar lands during Navratni Puja days of Shri Mahalaxmi is the principal feature of the old Dhakleshwar Temple Trust. The fair is celebrated for more than a century now. The proceeds from it constitute the principal source of maintenance of the Dhakleshwar Pagoda and the other temples attached to it.

G. I. P. RAILWAYMEN'S UNION.

(Registered and Recognised.)

1st Floor, Neptune Building, 166, Hornby Road, Bombay

This Union originated from the G. I. P. Railway Workers' Union, now defunct, and which was an amalgamation of the G. I. P. Railwaymen's Union and the G. I. P. Railway Staff Union. In 1939, owing to a split in this amalgamation, a section of the Workers' Union set up separately the G. I. P. Railway Labour Union, which was followed in 1944 by the organisation of another called the New G. I. P. Railway Staff Union. The Labour Union which was a constituent of the Red Trade Union Congress, merged into the G. I. P. Workers' Union when the Red Trade Union Congress merged into the All India Trade Union Congress in 1935. In April 1938 the two rival central organisations, namely, the All India Trade Union Congress and the Indian Trades Union Federation, decided to unite and work together by arriving at a mutual understanding. This unity at the centre was followed on the G. I. P. and the G. I. P. Railway Workers' Union and the New G. I. P. Railway Staff Union came to some understanding whereby the G. I. P. Railway Workers' Union ceased functioning. Since 1st August, 1938, all the sections were again combined under the flag of the New G. I. P. Railway Staff Union, which simultaneously changed its name into G. I. P. Railwaymen's Union. The Union had on 31st March 1945, a membership of 18,305 and it has opened 28 centres on the G. I. P. system to carry on its activities. On an average its monthly income is Rs. 1,550.

The Indian Central Cotton Committee was constituted by the Government of India in 1921, as a result of the recommendation of the Indian Cotton Committee of 1917-18. Originally, it was purely an advisory body, but, with its incorporation under the Indian Cotton Cess Act in 1923, it became an administrative body, having at its disposal funds "for the improvement and development of the growing, marketing and manufacture of cotton in India." The funds of the Committee are derived from the cotton cess of two annas per bale of Indian cotton (four annas for the first three years) exported or brought under process in a mill in British India. The Committee is at present spending about Rs. 10,00,000 per annum on cotton improvement, mainly on agricultural and technological research, seed distribution and marketing schemes.

Including, as it does, representatives of growers, agricultural officers, traders, spinners and manufacturers, the Committee has been an invaluable forum for the discussion of many problems of general concern. The ever increasing understanding which has arisen from the association of leading commercial representatives with growers and research workers has led to developments which, at one time, seemed impossible. Whilst the constitution of the Committee ensures a broad outlook on the many problems affecting the cotton industry, its primary concern is the interest and welfare of the cotton grower.

The activities of the Committee now extend to all branches of cotton improvement in India. Funds are provided for research into cotton problems of all-India importance and for the development, extension and marketing of improved varieties of cotton. The aim always is to supplement and not supplant the work of the Agricultural Departments in the cotton growing provinces and Indian States. Though, as a matter of convenience, the Committee has laid down certain lines of demarcation regarding the investigations which it considers appropriate for its grants, the general policy is to give assistance in the direction where it is most needed in the carrying out of a co-ordinated policy of cotton improvement. Realising at the outset that the production of a better variety of cotton will not alone solve the entire cotton problem and that improvement in the science and practice of agriculture must go hand in hand with improvement in the method of disposal of the produce, considerable attention has been devoted by the Committee to the improvement of primary cotton marketing and to the prevention of adulteration and other abuses.
